Business History

Ron Cox began his business in 1998, in Dexter, MO., when he became interested in becoming self-employed. The first year as a business owner he hired three employees and started his business by mowing lawns and cleaning parking lots with minimal equipment. As a result of each year's success and growth, he added approximately 20 more employees, and he owns property that includes a shop, office and land, which stores a significant amount of equipment and supplies. He has also overseen and developed the merging of 3 businesses to what has now become known as North American Property Maintenance Inc.

Now, after 13 years, this business provides total property maintenance for both commercial and residential customers, and is emerging as the premier property maintenance provider in the Branson area. Additionally, Ron holds a Missouri Chemical Applicator's License, and he has completed certification in Fixed Fire Systems and Fire Extinguishers, and Commercial Kitchen Exhaust Hood Cleaning.

The company began with an innovative vision, unabashed drive to succeed, impeccable work ethic and a dedicated system of core values. Ron Cox grew this company, that consists of individuals that share his values and ethics, into a first class service company with a passion to do "what ever it takes" to exceed their customers' expectations. It's no secret that their employees are their best assets. They take the time to hand pick each person, and provide extensive training, so you couldn't ask for better resources.

Furthermore, North American Property Maintenance Inc. cleaning and landscaping teams and services are customized to each individual client and their specific set of needs. This tailored approach permits them to handle numerous projects that come up, and allows more time for their customers to attend to their business at hand. Their proven site-specific systems are designed to foster accountability, focus efforts and increase communication.

From the company's inception, the business philosophy has been God centered and faith based, recognizing that there is a higher order that provides a basis for all their core values.
